FROM THE CEO

Dear Friends of ArtsWestchester,

Fiscal 2022 was a landmark year for ArtsWestchester and for the arts across this nation in so many ways. After two years without live performances and in-person events, 2022 was a year of returning to the arts. It was a year of returning to the magic and joy that live music, art and theatre experiences bring, and it was a year of bringing the energy of the arts back to our downtowns and community spaces.

During this post-pandemic period, there has never been a better time to recognize the comeback the arts have made. Now let's recommit ourselves to supporting the creators, presenters and makers of the county's cultural community.

2022 was also a year when ArtsWestchester brought public art and arts events into the streets of White Plains with the five-day Serious Fun Arts Fest and throughout the County with our ArtsMobile education program. Seeing the delight in people's faces as they experienced the arts through programs we supported, served to underscore our belief that the arts are essential to our individual and collective wellbeing. It also served to re-energize our board and staff with our mission of ensuring the diversity and accessibility of the arts in Westchester County now and for the future.

I thank you for your support of our programs and mission,

Janet T. Langsam
CEO, ArtsWestchester

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends of ArtsWestchester,

Over the past year, ArtsWestchester has continued its work of restarting the arts in Westchester by funding and promoting arts programs in every corner of the county – programs that embrace the varied expressions of our multi-cultural community. In 2022, thousands of people attended our Westchester Roots series, which presented a wide range of cultural traditions, including music, dance and artwork of African American, Afro-Caribbean, LGBTQ+, Ghanaian, Ecuadorian, Guatemalan, Mexican, Korean, Indian and Irish communities.

Since ArtsWestchester's founding in 1965, strengthening and supporting Westchester's cultural community, safeguarding vital cultural traditions and providing free and affordable access to the arts has been central to our work. In fact, a commitment to the principals of EDIA (Equity, Diversity, Inclusiveness and Accessibility) is part of the arts council's DNA and is essential to our vision for the future.

According to a public opinion poll given by Americans for the Arts across the nation, 72% of Americans believe that "the arts unify our communities regardless of age, race and ethnicity" and 73% agree that the arts "help me understand other cultures better"—a perspective observed across all demographic and economic categories.

As we recover from the isolation of the recent pandemic and come back together to take part in arts and entertainment, let's remember that the arts are not just good for the soul, but they help bring people—all kinds of people—together, building something that is essential to our humanity. They build back our sense of community.

Thank you for your ongoing support of the arts.

THE ARTS EXCHANGE CONTINUES TO BE A COMMUNITY ANCHOR

The historic Arts Exchange, ArtsWestchester's landmark nine-story headquarters, continued to play a central role for the organization and community at large. The building is a bustling home to artists and small creative businesses that occupy floors four through eight. In 2022, the building reached 90% occupancy with only three studios unleased. New tenants joined the artist community, including a botanical painter, while long-time tenants who had scaled back during the COVID-19 pandemic returned to the building. Artists have also teamed up to create a dynamic co-work space, currently shared by two photographers and a painter.

As stewards of a 90-year-old historic property, ArtsWestchester actively seeks support for capital projects that improve the resiliency and sustainability of the Arts Exchange. ArtsWestchester received a major grant of $1 million from the Dormitory Authority of the State of New York to upgrade and relocate the building's boiler plant and heating system. The grant was sponsored by New York State Senate Majority Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins. Work will begin and be completed in 2023.

ArtsWestchester was also the proud recipient of two $1 million capital grants, one each from the New York State Council on the Arts and Empire State Development. These significant awards will help ArtsWestchester to ensure the accessibility and sustainability of the Arts Exchange by supporting the build-out of a new street-grade, ADA compliant entrance and installation of a nine-story elevator.

ARTS IN EDUCATION

In March 2022, ArtsWestchester's education programs transitioned back to in-person programming. With continued funding from White Plains Hospital, Con Edison and White Plains Housing Authority, ArtsWestchester's ArtsMobile program offered more than 100 free in-person art workshops serving more than 2,000 youth and their families in Westchester County.

Through creative activities, ArtsWestchester's community education program served over 300 individuals who are receiving mental health services, and also presented an annual art exhibition by the same population. These programs are made possible with the support of the Westchester County Department of Community Mental Health.

Thrice monthly, ArtsWestchester's Teen Tuesdays & Thursdays after-school program offered free in-person workshops for more than 2,000 youth aged 11-17. Major support for Teen Tuesdays & Thursdays includes the following: Institute of Museum and Library Services, NYSCA, Wells Fargo, TD Bank, Con Edison, Carvel Foundation, Keybank, MGM Resorts International and Empire City Casino.

In addition, ArtsWestchester's Young Adult Leadership Council program enrolled 15 youth, aged 16-22, who participated in workshops focused on public speaking, resume building, writing, career development, and the arts. The Young Adult Leadership Council is a paid career- and college-readiness program and a next step for teens who age out of the popular Teen Tuesdays & Thursdays program made possible with support from the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

ArtsWestchester's teaching artists were busy during this critical post-pandemic period, bringing the joy and healing of hands-on art activities back to community, including senior centers, schools and municipalities throughout Westchester County.

ArtsWestchester's community partners include: Coachman Homeless Shelter; White Plains Youth Bureau; White Plains Housing Authority Sites; Slater Center; Step-Up Program; Boys and Girls Club of Mt. Kisco; Boys and Girls Club of Mt. Vernon; Boys and Girls Club of New Rochelle; Children's Village, Dobbs Ferry; North American Family Institute; White Plains School District; Greenburgh School District; Carver Center, Port Chester; St. Christopher's Inc., Dobbs Ferry; Andrus; El Centro Hispano; and Family Services of Westchester, White Plains.

A SERIOUS(LY) FUN YEAR FOR PUBLIC ART

2022 was a year of murals, sculptures and art outdoors! ArtsWestchester's Serious Fun Arts Fest took over the City of White Plains from October 12-16, 2022 with the work of more than 200 visual artists across dynamic, largescale works of public art, a pop-up art fair, and compelling indoor and outdoor exhibitions. The festival represented a watershed moment for ArtsWestchester's collaboration with the City of White Plains, which wholeheartedly embraced the power of public art to inspire, connect and enliven the City's downtown.

The festival featured many artistic highlights and high points. To name only a few, Cheryl Wing-Zi Wong's sculptural seating installation in Renaissance Plaza created a new community hub for sitting, snacking, gathering and socializing in the heart of the City's downtown. "Fish City" by Erwin Ong, a White Plains resident, transformed the construction walls of the new Southern Land property at 252 Mamaroneck Avenue with a fanciful underwater scene. Visitors to White Plains could find their way to artworks by following Sarah Divi's yarn-bombing-inspired installation throughout the festival corridor.

The festival was made possible thanks to a major grant from I Love NY, a program administered by Empire State Development, our presenting sponsor Montefiore Einstein, a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, and eleven property developers and owners.

ArtsWestchester's marquee public art project of 2022 was the realization of "Metropolis Sunrise" by Amanda Browder. Supported, in part, by the New York State Council for the Arts, the monumental six-story textile sculpture was installed on the Mamaroneck Avenue façade of ArtsWestchester's historic building, and was on view to the public from October and November 2022. Creation of "Metropolis Sunrise" commenced in 2019, but went on pause during the COVID-19 pandemic. In all, 1,000 individuals from across the Hudson Valley aided the artist in the creation of the installation – from donating 10,000 square feet of fabric to pinning and sewing it all together into an exuberant celebration of community. The artwork was awarded a "Best of Westchester" for Public Art Installation by Westchester Magazine – a well-deserved recognition for the many Westchester residents who each contributed to its realization!

FOLK ARTS

ArtsWestchester's Folk Arts Program presents, promotes and preserves the artistic expressions of Westchester's cultural communities through collaborative community programming, education, research and documentation. Folk Arts programs in 2022 engaged 131 local artists, were attended by more than 5,250 community members, and supported a wide range of tradition-bearers that represented the cultural heritage of our region's African American, Afro-Caribbean, LGBTQ+, Ghanaian, Ecuadorian, Guatemalan, Mexican, Korean, Indian and Irish communities.

During the summer, ArtsWestchester presented Westchester Roots, a series of nine outdoor music and dance programs held in parks and city streets across the County. The series included performances, workshops and outdoor festivals, including Westchester Pride and 'Dia De La Cultura Ecuatoriana,' a half-day program featuring the music, dance, food, craft and costume traditions of Westchester's Ecuadorian community.

ArtsWestchester, with the support from the Westchester County Government, and in collaboration with 14 Juneteenth Committees across Westchester and Rockland Counties, presented the 2nd annual Countywide Juneteenth Kick-Off Celebration at the Thomas H. Slater Center in White Plains. The program featured a keynote talk by esteemed urban anthropologist Dr. Sherrill Wilson, a reenactment of Harriet Tubman, as well as music and dance performances by regional artists.

ArtsWestchester was also the recipient of a prestigious Archie Green Fellowship from the American Folk Life Center at the Library of Congress. The $20K award was given to support the collection of 15 oral histories from Community Health Workers (CHWs) across Downstate New York. The documentation project highlights how CHWs reduce health disparities in underserved communities by leveraging shared cultural values, ethnicity, language, socioeconomic status, and life experiences with the communities they serve.

Finally, JazzFest White Plains presented 12 concerts over five days, reaching an in-person audience of 3,000+ jazz enthusiasts. Talent included jazz greats Francois Moutin, Grace Kelly, Joey Alexander, Buster Williams, and more.

BRINGING PEOPLE BACK TO THE ARTS

2022 was a milestone year for ArtsWestchester in so many ways. The Serious Fun Arts Fest, a five-day arts festival of public art, live music, theatre performances, art exhibitions and more was definitely one of the highlights. The new event brought color, music and dance to the streets in a celebration of emergence from the COVID-19 pandemic and of getting back to participating in the arts. Supported by a $500K Market NY Grant from Empire State Development and a major sponsorship from Montefiore Einstein, and working with more than 200 artists, ArtsWestchester produced, promoted and presented a festival that attracted 5,000 people to visit White Plains, many of whom were discovering the City for the first time.

ArtsWestchester successfully partnered with a diverse group of White Plains stakeholders, media partners and Westchester County Government to market the festival to arts-interested consumers in the Tri-State area. An integrated advertising campaign was implemented that generated 10 million impressions in the lead up to the fall festival positioning White Plains as a destination filled with one-of-a-kind art and music pop-up experiences. Radio spots, cable TV commercials, print, social media, web and outdoor creative was all created by ArtsWestchester's in-house marketing team. There were more than 67K visits to the Festival landing page on artsw.org with 37,000 unique visitors who came for festival information. Additionally, we had media coverage with an estimated 794K views of the TV or print placements. In many ways, the Festival put White Plains "on the map" for residents of the NY Metro area who had never traveled here for arts and culture.

Throughout the entire year, AW's marketing / communications team worked to build arts audiences by increasing our social media efforts and consistently producing ArtsNews editorial content and weekly Arts(e)News emails that provide residents and visitors with arts event information and features local artists and arts organizations. The staff continued to build ArtsWestchester's brand while promoting all of the organization's ongoing programs including: JazzFest White Plains, the Westchester Roots series, the ArtsMobile and all fundraising events.

DEVELOPMENT & SPECIAL EVENTS

IN-PERSON EVENTS BRING US BACK TOGETHER

ArtsWestchester emerged from its two-year lockdown with its annual Arts Award luncheon, which was presented in person to a roster of stellar honorees—from a group of local Juneteenth organizations to a highly acclaimed Irish song leader—reaffirming that arts and culture can even overcome a pandemic.

In June of 2022, the always-popular golf outing took place at a new venue, Whippoorwill Country Club in Armonk, where the sold-out field raised $100K for the arts. This event is a vital part of ArtsWestchester’s annual fundraising strategy to generate unrestricted funds for the organization, and its success is due to a dedicated team of golfers who return each year to enjoy the friendly competition.

Building on the excitement of the Serious Fun Arts Fest held in October, ArtsWestchester’s annual gala became the culminating event of the festival, named as the Serious Fun Gala. In 2022, ArtsWestchester decided to bring the gala home to its gallery, where an outstanding exhibition served as a backdrop for the gala’s cocktail hour and an adjacent former restaurant served as a pop-up venue for a festive dinner. Beams of Hollywood lights lit the sky as guests, led by a local dance group, followed a red carpet to dinner under a monumental fabric sculpture by Amanda Browder displayed on the façade of ArtsWestchester’s building. Gala success is always the result of teamwork by staff and volunteers, and support from the Board – and 2022 was no different!

GRANTS

ArtsWestchester's Grants Program grew exponentially in 2022, with the inclusion of landmark funding from the New York State Legislature to support grassroots organizations and artists in Westchester and Rockland Counties as well as continued funding from the National Endowment for the Arts to support artist-driven initiatives. Following the success of the 2021-22 "ReStart the Arts" funding program, ArtsWestchester secured a renewed allocation of $1 million in 2022, which included over $500,000 earmarked specifically for grants through our Arts Alive regrant program.

In 2022, ArtsWestchester awarded more than $2 million in funding to organizations and individual artists, including Arts Alive and two equity-focused initiatives—Advancing Equity and Voices for Change. Grants are designed to increase organizational capacity, enhance cultural and educational programming, support individual artists in the creation of new work, and make arts and culture programming accessible to all communities. Also included in the 2022 awards was a renewed initiative for funding Juneteenth Heritage Celebrations across Westchester and Rockland, elevating the federal holiday to a countywide community event.

In fall 2022, a record-setting 153 arts organizations were eligible to participate in the Art$WChallenge matching grant program, which leveraged County funding to raise $786,541 in new, private donations that were matched by $501,571 in County support. In total, 131 organizations and 21 artist programs were supported in 2022.
